

The narcissus grows on the plains near the sea just south of Mount Carmel. They also grow near Jericho. The narcissus has white petals with a yellow, trumpet-like center. This flower has a sweet smell. The people in Israel put a few narcissus in a vase in their homes. Bunches of narcissus are sold in the markets of the cities.

This flower is not very tall. It is only about 10 inches high.

The outer petals of the flower are white. The center is yellow. Deep down in the center it seems to be dark green.

The blade-like leaves are dark green. Shade the leaves with brown.
